

HE'S TOO LAZY TO WORK

Billy Draper Given Quite a Send Off by His Wife.

GAY, PICKLE AND MEAN

The Evidence Shows He Didn't Overlook Any Sets While He Was Around the Country.

BUTTE, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Lucinda Draper was today granted a divorce from her husband, William Draper, by Judge McHatten. Draper was formerly a concert hall musician in this city and a generally worthless fellow, and nearly a year ago he was sent to Hot Springs, Ark., for the benefit of his shattered health.

Mrs. Draper testified before a referee that she was married to the defendant at Pueblo, Colo., Nov. 14, 1883, and has lived in Montana since 1890. She says he has contributed nothing toward her support in three years, and that he was too lazy to work. She even supported him with money from her hard earned savings, and when she refused to give him more, he beat her. She said he was also a confirmed gambler. He treated her so cruelly that she was compelled to leave him on the 10th of last December.

Sometimes after she left for Hot Springs and she has not heard from him since. Others, however, have heard of him and what they heard was not to Billy's credit. It seems that before he had been at the springs very long he met a married woman from a little village in Illinois. She was also at the springs for her health and naturally upon becoming acquainted they sympathized with each other. Sympathy led to friendship and friendship ripened into love on the part of the woman.

As the story goes, the woman's husband was about to put in an appearance at the springs and, not wishing to be separated from her paramour, she proposed elopement, but the wily Billy knew that her allowance came from the injured husband and he could not see it in that light, so he refused to take French leave.

The time passed on and Draper prepared to leave Hot Springs and upon informing the woman of his intention she waited until after he had left the room and then deliberately committed suicide. Upon his return to the hotel he found her surrounded by medical attendants, with lagers and hotel attaches, and learned that she had shot herself through the heart with his pistol, which he had thoughtlessly left in the room. Her husband was telegraphed for, but it appears he had learned of his wife's indiscretion, and refused to answer the summons in person, but sent the woman's brother instead. The latter appeared on the scene and hushed matters up as best he could, and took the poor unfortunate's body back to Illinois for burial.

In the meantime, finding things too warm for him in Arkansas, he hid himself to Texas where it is said he now is.

Emily Ely supported the testimony of Mrs. Draper, and said that on Dec. 10, 1893, Mrs. Draper came to her house to live, having left her husband on account of his cruelty. After she had been with Mrs. Ely for three days, Draper called and asked for his wife. She came out of her room, and without a word to her he struck her with his fist, and he would not leave the house until Emily called the police. The witness said she had often seen Mrs. Draper give her husband money, and it was her opinion that he was an entirely worthless fellow.

IT WAS A GREAT GAME.

Murray Won But by the Skin of His Teeth.

BUTTE, Nov. 17.—A splendid game of pool was played this evening at the billiard parlors of the Butte between D. S. Murray of Salt Lake and Frank March of this city. The men were evenly matched. While Murray won, the friends of March believe he is the better man of the two, and are confident that he can beat Murray. A large crowd witnessed the match. March led until the last two frames when Murray did some clean and phenomenal playing and won by 125 to 120. March lost a great many points by neglecting to call his shots, and but for this he would have won.

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

The Gallatin Teachers' Institute Did Good Work.

SPECIAL Correspondence of the Standard.
BONHEAVEN, Nov. 16.—The teachers' institute closed its meetings to-night with a most interesting evening session at the opera house, one of the pleasantest features being the maiden effort of the Entre Nous orchestra. This orchestra has 10 pieces and is the result of the earnest efforts of its members for nearly a year in practicing, by hard work and a perseverance, which is very uncommon and most commendable in these young men.

The seven boys and three girls comprising this orchestra range between the ages of 12 and 18, and their music given to-night showed great care on their part, and was loudly applauded and once encored by the audience.

The other music at the evening session was excellent, and the address by President Reed of the college was given in the usual strong, masterly manner of Mr. Reed, which held the large audience in their places till the last word, and was a most fitting end to this year's institute, which has been the finest, the most instructive and entertaining of any institute of former years in this country.

At the close of the afternoon session County Superintendent Kay was presented with a beautiful gold-headed cane by the teachers, and this mark of appreciation from these, his co-workers during the past two years, touched the heart of the retiring superintendent, whose earnest endeavor has been to advance every grade of the public schools. This year's institute has shown a considerable advance over those of former years, which is due in a large degree to the normal plan of conducting these meetings, as instituted by Superintendent Kay.

In his remarks at the close of the evening session Superintendent Kay gave a sketch of the common school, spoke of the physical, mental and moral qualifications of the pupil, the need of a system of instruction adapted to them, the necessity of the teacher's possessing not only knowledge, but skill in teaching and tact in governing and of the potency of love in guiding children and inspiring them to greater effort. He gave some report of his stewardship, speaking of the classification of the country schools, to which he had given considerable attention.

IN THE SWIM.

London Having an Unusual Experience With Floods.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The floods become more serious every day. The Thames rose four inches at Windsor during the night. Eton college is closed and all the boys have been sent home. Not since 1881 has the river been so high. At Oxford Christ Church Meadows are under four feet of water. The Magdalen gardens are in a like condition. In every direction the water is rising rapidly.

Joining the Japs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The new treaty between the United States and Japan has been concluded in all its essential features and it remains only to determine the minor details and phraseology. The instrument has not yet been formally signed and its actual execution may be delayed some days, although the understanding on all its terms are so complete that it might be concluded at once if the officials so desired.

She's Young, Rich and Beautiful.
DENVER, Nov. 17.—The thirty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Denver was commemorated to-night by a banquet under the auspices of the East Estate exchange. Many of those present were connected with some of the principal events in the earlier history of the state and were present at the birth of the city. The speeches were devoted largely to an exposition of the superior natural resources of Colorado.

To-Day's Bank Statement.
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The weekly bank statement is as follows:

Specie, increase.....164,700
Legal tenders, increase.....1,103,800
Deposits, increase.....231,200

The banks now hold $22,974,000 in excess of legal requirements.

Rich Fuel for Fire.
NOTTINGHAM, Nov. 17.—The biggest fire in a quarter of a century here has destroyed an extensive block of buildings in the lace market district. The flames broke out on the premises of Down & Co., who had large consignments of lace ready for shipment to America, which was burned. The damage is estimated at $750,000. Hundreds of people are thrown out of work.

Nonsense.
PARIS, Nov. 17.—The Journal publishes the improbable story that the ministers who attended the British cabinet council on Nov. 4 discussed the eventuality of declaring war against France.

Cornell Defeated.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 17.—To-day's match between Pennsylvania and Cornell was won by the former by a single touchdown and a goal to nothing. A worse day for football could not have been found. All morning the rain came down in torrents and the field before play was covered in spots with water.

TRY IT AND SEE.

The "Standard" as an Exchange Between Employers and Employed.

The STANDARD's phenomenal circulation throughout Montana, and, in fact, throughout the entire Northwest, is appreciated by all advertisers, but by none, perhaps, so much as those who are seeking employment and those who are desirous of obtaining help. The STANDARD's "cheap ad" columns are recognized as the best medium of exchange between employers and employed in the whole state. If you doubt it, make a trial and be convinced. You will be astonished at the number of answers an advertisement of this character will call forth. The rates are within the reach of the poorest, two cents a word for the first insertion, and one cent a word for each subsequent insertion.

Consumption Checked

Obstinate Case of Catarrh Local Applications Failed—Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"G. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen:—I ought to make known my experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla, so that others afflicted may learn where to find a remedy for that serious and obstinate disease, catarrh. It troubled me seriously. I had a dull aching sensation in the top of my head, and the worst discharge from the nose. I had no sleep that mornings I could do nothing but hawk and spit. My lungs were also being rapidly affected, and had it not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla, I would have died.'

A Consumptive's Grave
long ago. I have taken about ten bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which have effectually cured me. Before reporting to this medicine, I used all the catarrh remedies, inhalants and local application. I heard of. None seemed to reach the seat of the disease. In fact I grew worse while using them. I owe my cure to the blood purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MINNIE M. KEYSER, Pataskala, Ohio.
